Access shared folder

Open the approved company file-sharing service and sign in with the company account. Use the shared folder link supplied by the owner. If access is denied, request permission from the folder owner through the approved workflow.

Sync conflict

Pause editing until the conflict is understood. Compare file names and modified times. Do not delete either copy. Ask the document owner to confirm which version should be retained.

External sharing

Share externally only when company policy permits it and the file owner approves. Use an approved link with the minimum required access and expiration settings. Never make confidential folders public.
