Account Password Reset Procedure

Self-service reset

Open the approved company password-reset portal. Verify identity using the configured company method. Follow the on-screen password requirements and choose a new unique password. Sign in again using the new password. Do not reuse a personal password.

Account locked

Wait for the lockout period shown by the identity portal if one is displayed. If access is still blocked, open a ticket with the username and exact error message. Support staff must follow the approved identity verification process before resetting an account.

Security reminders

IT staff will never ask an employee to send their password or one-time verification code in chat or email. Report unexpected password-reset prompts to the security team. Use the approved password manager if one is provided by the company.
